

Elevate your business with AI.

AltaML is a leader in applied artificial intelligence (AI) in Canada.

We help business leaders across North America understand how AI can redefine their competitive advantage. By harnessing partner data and domain expertise, we develop powerful AI solutions and products that create operational efficiencies, mitigate risks, and drive revenue.

We take the time to understand your business goals, processes and data to develop AI solutions that create value.

← Click on video

We work with enterprise-level organizations across industry sectors to:

- Evaluate AI opportunities
- Create proof of concept models
- Develop and deploy AI solutions that provide the most value for your business

As an invested partner, we help align interests, increase AI literacy, and share best practices to ensure you have a successful AI journey. Our announced partners include: TransAlta, AIMCo, Suncor, ATB Financial, Spartan Controls, Attabotics, DynaLIFE, Protxx, Food-X, HelpSeeker, Williams Engineering, and many more.

Our Applied AI Studio offers a proven, collaborative approach.

We recommend the following:

Begin with problems. Sounds obvious, but lots of people do it backwards. We identify the business value of what AI can do for that problem.

Start small. A “little bets” approach to experimentation is better for uncertainty whereas AI moonshots are likely to fail.

It's a team sport. We bring your industry experts together with our AI experts. A data science team working in a silo is not set up for success.

Data quality. Don't wait for perfect data to start on AI because AI will inform your data strategy.

Expectations. Prediction, optimization, pattern detection, automation are typical outcomes. The impact depends on the problem they solve.

It's not magic. But it's also not easy embarking on AI adoption — comprehensive, advanced expertise is required.

Our commitment to use AI for good drives the work we do.

Curious about what we could do for you?

We offer an AI 101 session to help get you thinking about how AI can be applied to your business.

Contact us at hello@altaml.com for more information. We can explore a low-risk opportunity to identify a proof-of-concept AI solution for your business.

